

PRESS RELEASE

OH NO CHARLIE FARLEY!

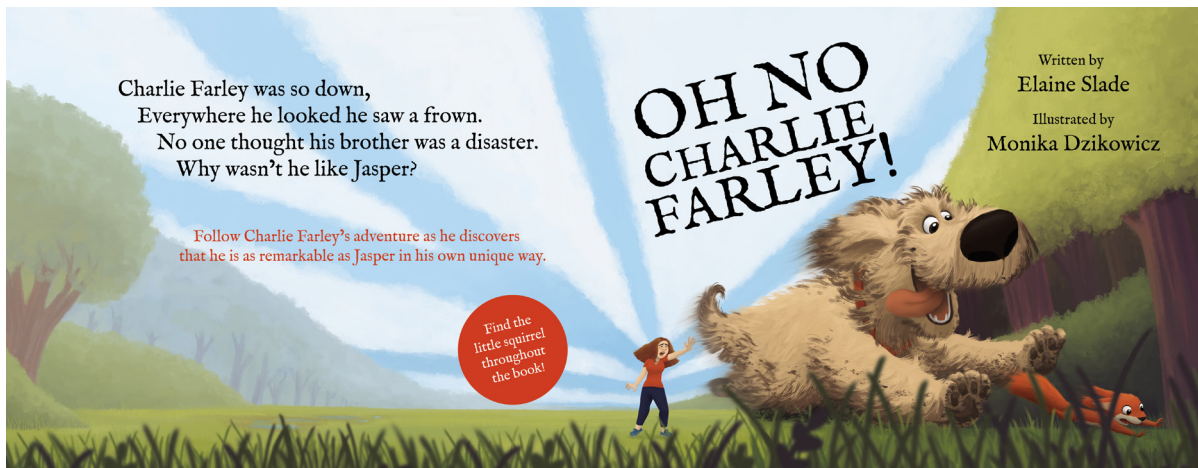

Charlie Farley was so down,
Everywhere he looked he saw a frown.
Why wasn't he like Jasper?
No-one thought his brother was a disaster!

Follow Charlie Farley's adventures as he discovers that he is as remarkable as Jasper in his own unique way. Encourage your child or your class to explore how they too are uniquely special through this story!

ONSALE
NOW

IMAGES FROM THE BOOK

AUTHOR AND ILLUSTRATOR

Elaine Slade - Author

Elaine is a former Deputy Head who loves exploring a good story and inspiring children, including her family (four daughters, two granddaughters), to love reading. She is passionate about raising children's self-esteem and affirming their uniqueness. Elaine enjoys a challenge like Charlie Farley; she has trekked up to 4000m in the Himalayas and lived in Romania for three years.

www.elainesladebooks.com

Monika Dzikowicz - Illustrator

Monika, just like Charlie Farley, spent most of her childhood covered in mud; frolicking in nature; and looking up to her cool, older sister. When she grew up she embraced her uniqueness and became an illustrator who strives to visualise stories, which empower people and teach them emotional intelligence.

www.monikadzikowicz.com

38 illustrated pages
300gsm GLOSS cover
170gsm SILK internal full colour pages
Activity Guide to help children understand the story and the theme
Find the little squirrel on each double page
Behind The Scenes on how the book came to life

11 inches x 8.5 inches paperback

ISBN: 978-1-8384003-0-9

Boz Publications Ltd. 71-75 Shelton Street, Covent Garden, London WC2H 9JQ
office@bozpublications.com - www.bozpublications.com